WHAT MARY REALLY HAD.
Mary had a little lamb
With mashed potatoes fine,
Then she had a dozen smelts
And topped 'em off with wine.
Mary had an easy bark—
I think his name was Jones—
Anyway what Mary had Cost Jones twenty bones.

The City Council at Richmond recently voted a special license tax on all kinds and branches of business there for the purpose of making up the deficit caused by the closing of twelve saloons. Among the taxes was one of $75 on the Standard Oil Company for each wagon it was running for the purpose of delivering oil to customers. The Company was running two wagons, but instead of paying the special tax it has discontinued the delivery of oil, and notified all those who want oil to come to the tank and get it.

The Maysville Public Library needs a new roof, as the present one has sprung several leaks and ruined the frescoing on the West wall. In order to secure the money to pay for a new roof, nearly $150 will have to be raised. In order to assist in doing this a lawn party or moonlight fete will be given in the pretty yard in front of the Library next Saturday evening from 7 to 11 o'clock. Ices, cakes and candies will be served at moderate prices. Every person in Maysville who has the free use of the books in the Library should make it a point to attend this refreshment party and help to pay for the roof.

OUR SECOND GREAT SEMI-ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE

Begins Monday, August 12th,

And continues until every job in our house is sold. Last summer we contracted for extra advertising space in order to draw your attention to our sale; advertised a great and sweeping clean-up sale; stuck to the letter to what we advertised, and as a result had the most satisfactory Buggy Sale ever held in Maysville carrying over one buggy only. This year we do not intend to have one rig left in our repository, and are marking the vehicles at such ridiculously low prices, and backing them up with such a strong guarantee, that you cannot help but buy if you are needing a rig of any kind. The case is this: We have the Vehicles and need the money; you have the money and need the Vehicles. Now is your opportunity.

We include in the sale all Buggies, Runabouts, Surreys, Phaetons and Carts in our repository. Don't you think it will pay you to investigate?

A welcoming and cooling rain fell here last evening.

The condition of Mr. John Dnley was worse yesterday than at any time within the past two weeks. He is in Bethesda Hospital, Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, which is in connection with the German Methodist Deaconess Home.

J. C. Everett & Co., the hustling and wide awake East Second street grain dealers, have added as a side line "Town Talk Flour," and that they have confidence that no better flour is made they advertise "money refunded and a premium of $1 given for every barrel of flour returned that is not satisfactory." Nothing could be more fair than that. Give them a trial order.

Mr. Crawford of Sardis in pulling his two-horse wagon across the streetcar track in front of Hoeft's store, in Market street yesterday morning twisted a hind wheel off the vehicle, spilled a load of coal, and came near upsetting a buggy containing two ladies. The accident is the result of the car rail being about two inches higher than the road bed. The street is in bad condition and should be remedied at once by metalizing the road and bringing it up level with the rail of the car track.

FIRE A SALUTE.

The V. S. V. Club of Covington, which is on a cruise to Parkersburg, W. Va., on the steamer Cricket, put in here Monday to do honor to the Covington delegation to the opening of the state campaign. JUDGE TARVIN DEAD

Kentucky Jurist Passes Away at Cleveland Yesterday

Former Circuit Judge James Prior Tarvin of Covington died suddenly yesterday at the Hotel, Cleveland, O. His death ended a search for health.

The Judge had been afflicted with asthma for some time, and a violent attack, combined with weak heart action, is believed responsible for the sudden summons.

Judge Tarvin was one of Kentucky's most widely known Jurists.

He became Circuit Judge at Covington in 1898 and after leaving the Bench Judge Tarvin was counsel in a number of the most noted cases in Kentucky Courts. He was also famous as a campaign orator.

WHAT Are Towels For? Absorption and Friction Is Absorption? Capillary Attraction.

The water runs up the loose fibres of the cotton in the nubs of the RUBDRY and is instantly absorbed. You do not use a piece of hard finished writing paper to take up a blot of ink, you use a blotting paper; and why? Because it is made up of loose, hairy fibres which draw the ink up. That is capillary attraction.

The Nubs in the RUBDRY give the Friction. The RUBDRY is the product of American brains and Egyptian cotton.

RUBDRY TOWELS are strictly hand bleached.

THANKS to Providence, it appears that a new regime in state administrations is about to be ushered in at Frankfort, and a new deal with a new deck is to be given the people—not the marked cards which Governor Crapps has been skin-gaming the state with.

THE last saloon in Brooksville closed last Saturday. The county of Bracken is "dry" local optionally speaking, but we have it from a prominent citizen of Brooksville that the county is literally being flooded with liquor from Ohio and other states; besides the one distillery at Brooksville is working to its capacity in order to supply the great "drouth" which has followed the shutting up of the saloons. There is also talk of building a distillery at Augusta. Does local option prohibit?

We are offering ridiculously low prices upon standard Pianos, in some instances as much as $100 off! This marvelous state of affairs comes about through a number of causes, all legitimate as well as apparent. No secret about it, so listen: We do not buy our Pianos haphazard, taking whatever the manufacturer chooses to send us. We eliminate all the elements of chance. We personally go to the Fountain Head of Art, New York City, and patiently inspect numerous instruments, making difficult and minute comparisons, testing voicings, dictating a change of case design here, an adjustment in the action there, etc., etc. In consequence of which our pianos are marvels of art, their tonal qualities superb and their case designs an education in wood art.

By this means we know each Piano that we offer for sale, and can and do give a Governor BECKHAM might kindly step down from the executive chair and let one ARTHUR GOEBEL run things awhile. By the way, GOEBEL has butted in about long enough.

WHAT impressed WILLSON's hearers was his good nature and clear honesty of purpose. But the question still remains: Do the voters of Kentucky like men with honesty of purpose?

GOVERNOR W. S. TAYLOR: If you come back to Kentucky now and deliver yourself into the hands of the Phillistines, why—well, we will vote you an ass of the palest hue. BECKHAM, HAGER and HALEY merely want to lash you to the Democratic chariot and exploit you over the state for machine political purposes. Stay where you are.

A MOVING EPISODE

By CARROLL M. HERBST

"I've found the loveliest flat," began Mrs. Pepper.

Mr. Pepper laid down his paper and looked at his wife wearily.

"No doubt," he said. "This was a lovely flat when first you found it."

"You know, dear, that the bedrooms are too small and the closets are—"

"Yes, yes, I know. You've told me often enough. I wish we were savages and lived in a cave, and then whenever you wanted to move we would pick up the bearskin rug and the fire clay kettle and hike out to the lovely new cave you had just found."

There were tears in Mrs. Pepper's eyes.

"O, go on and move, if you want to," he growled as he got up from the table. "Only don't bother me about it. If you have found a flat, rent it and move when you get ready. Let me know the day you are going to move and I will stay at the office till midnight, and by that time you will have things partially straightened out."

"You act more like a stranger than the head of the house," said Mrs. Pepper, reproachfully.

"I wish I was," murmured Mr. Pepper under his breath, and with this enigmatical remark he left the house.

"Well, I rented it!" said Mrs. Pepper that night.

He interrupted her with a wave of his hand.

"Not a word, not a word," he said. "You've rented it. That's all. When are you going to move?"

"I'll let you know," said Mrs. Pepper indignantly.

She began to tear the house to pieces the next day, but he pretended not to notice the fact. A week later, when he came down to breakfast one morning, Mr. Pepper found the rugs rolled up and the chairs wrapped.

"We're going to move to-day," said Mrs. Pepper.

"You mean you are going to move?" He put on his hat and threw his overcoat across his arm. "Well, I wish I could help you, but I'm awfully busy. Will have dinner downtown. Be home about midnight. So long."

He kissed her hastily and hurriedly. It really was the busy season for Mr. Pepper, and his day was full of worries. It was six o'clock when he left the office. He dined at a restaurant, and then went back to work at his books. At 11 o'clock he went home.

Mr. Pepper opened the door as usual with his latch key and ran upstairs and into his room before he struck a match.

"Great Jupiter," he exclaimed, as the light flared up.

The room was empty.

"She has moved, of course. But where?"

Mr. Pepper did not know.

He turned out the gas and went downstairs. After ringing Brown's bell next door for five minutes he succeeded in awakening Brown, who raised a front window on the second floor and looked down.

"What in the deuce is the matter? Who is it?" asked Brown.

"We've moved," said Pepper. "Do you know where we live now?"

"No, of course not. I'll ask the missus."

In a minute Brown came back to the window.

"You live over on Calumet avenue somewhere. That's as near as I can come to it. Better come in and go to bed. You can find your house in the morning."

"No, thank you," said Pepper. "She'll be crazy about me before morning I'll go back to the office. When she remembers that I don't know the new address she'll telephone."

At 12 o'clock Mrs. Pepper began to feel uneasy. She was tired to death from moving, but when she awoke from a short sleep at one o'clock she got up and dressed, and at two she waked the maid.

"I know something has happened to Mr. Pepper, Freda. He never would stay away from home until this hour without sending me word. There's no telephone here, so I can't call him up. Get up and dress. We must go and look for him."

It was three o'clock when the two women got a belated night car for the city, and it was 3:30 when they reached the Temple of Commerce building. The door was locked, but after they had knocked for a minute the sleepy watchman appeared and let them in.

"What's the matter?" he demanded.

"Mr. Pepper. He hasn't come home. Is he here?"

"He was before midnight. There is a light in his office now. Let us go up and see. Are you his wife? All right, come on."

The elevators were not running, and it was a long, tiresome climb to the fifth floor and the watchman who had caught something of the panicky feeling opened the door of Mr. Pepper's office and peeped cautiously in. Mrs. Pepper was afraid to look.

Mr. Pepper was sitting in his arm chair with his feet on the desk slide. He was asleep. He awoke to find his wife weeping over him.

"Why didn't you come home? O, I've been so frightened."

"I didn't know where I lived," said Mr. Pepper sheepishly.

Now Whereof He Spoke.

"Can you imagine something that it is more blessed to give than to receive?" asked the Sunday school teacher.

"Yes, ma'am," answered small Gerald, who remembered a recent interview with his mother, "a spankin'."

Perfect Womanhood

The greatest menace to woman's permanent happiness in life is the suffering that comes from some derangement of the feminine organs. Many thousands of women have realized this too late to save their health, barely in time to save their lives.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headache, bearing-down sensations, nervousness, irregularities or the "blues," she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as the greatest woman's remedy for woman's ills, made only of roots and herbs. It cures Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacement, Inflammation and Ulceration, and all Organic Diseases, and is invaluable in the Change of Life. It dissolves and Expels Tumors at an early stage, Subdues Faintness, Nervous Prostration, Exhaustion, and strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, and invigorates the whole female system. It is an excellent remedy for derangements of the Kidneys in either sex.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

WHY?

That little word and the interrogation point may mean little or it may mean much. When applied to roofing it means a good deal. The manufacturers of and dealers in nearly all "Composition," "Felt" and "Rubber" roofing tell you of their two and three-ply roofing and its superior qualities and then ask you $1 to $2 per square more than for single ply. When you examine roofing ask the weight. That's the test. Our Climax Asphalt weighs 60 pounds per square and is sold as low as the 35 and 40-pound kind. Investigate this before purchasing.

READ THIS AND PROFIT THEREBY!

This is a trying time of the year. Many discomforts arise from the heat. The best way to be comfortable is by bathing often, at least twice daily, and by using a liberal quantity of talcum powder. By bathing often one keeps the skin clean and the pores open, thereby allowing the entire body to "breathe freely," which means perfect health.

The best soap to use for the bath and toilet is Pears' Complexion Soap, a non-injurious, healthful soap. Talcum powder keeps the skin cool, allays heat rash, stops chafing and is an excellent toilet requisite. We have a number of kinds.

WORMS

"I had for years suffered from what medical men called Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach. In August I purchased a box of Cascarets and was surprised to find that I 'had 'em'—yes—a wiggling, squirming mass left me. Judge our doctor's surprise when I showed him thirty feet, and in another day the remainder about the same length of a tapeworm that had been sapling my vitality for years. I have enjoyed the best of health ever since. I trust this testimonial will appeal to other sufferers."

ANNUAL SALE, TEN MILLION BOXES

RACING IN THE AIR.

BALLOONS MATCHED FOR KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

HALF-FARE ON ALL RAILROADS

Tickets on Sale For Eight Days—Should Mean a Record-Breaking Crowd.

The south has never witnessed a balloon race. For some time, contests of this kind have been quite a fad among the European aristocracy. At one or two points in the north in this country they have been successfully carried on, but for the first time in the south a balloon race will be conducted at the Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville, September 16 to 21. Constructed especially for racing purposes, and each in charge of a competent operator, this feature of the big amusement program of the Kentucky State Fair can not help but prove a great attraction.

The balloons to be used during the week of September 16th at Louisville are exactly the same size. They will be released simultaneously, and will ascend to a height that takes them into an air current, when the race will begin. Ballasts of sand and the skill of the operator will decide the contest. For a time, the balloons will naturally be "neck and neck," as it were, then the operator who is most familiar with air currents, and the manipulation of the ballasts, will succeed in forging ahead of his opponent.

At any rate, the race should prove as exciting as a speed contest on Mother Earth.

OLD-TIME RESIDENTS OF "HAYSWOOD."

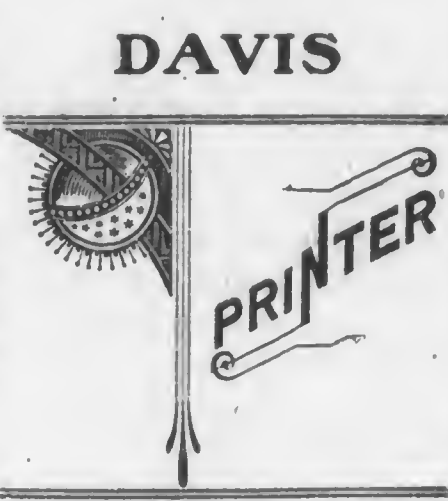

The brick residence at Haywood, as we mentioned last week, was erected by Dr. Joseph Taylor, a gentleman whose tastes and attainments were not merely professional. He came hither with his young wife, who was a sister of Dr. John Ball, so well known in Northern Kentucky, and in the early forties erected the solid brick residence which still adorns the beautiful grounds. He removed to Cincinnati in the fifties and resided there many years. As remembered here, he was a slender, graceful man of middle age, prematurely grey.

He had two children—Joseph and Mary. The latter removed in later years to Missouri and conducted very successfully an extensive nursery. Mary married Thomas McDougall, a distinguished Cincinnati lawyer, whose death is of recent memory. The widow is still living at the old home in the suburbs of that city.

Dr. Taylor's immediate successor at Haywood was Dr. Henry Kemper, a Cincinnati of Kentucky descent—a very handsome, cultivated and charming gentleman, who married Amy, the lovely and accomplished daughter of John Armstrong, then scarcely out of her "teens." She became very fond of the place and returned to it in later years. The Kempers were succeeded in the ownership and occupancy of Haywood by Mr. William Wurts and his wife, a lady who was passionately devoted to the cultivation of rare plants and flowers. Her conservatory and graperies for many years gave a peculiar charm and attraction to the old place. Her daughter, Miss Bonnie, is now a resident of Rome, Georgia.

Mrs. Hamilton Gray, a sister of Mrs. Wurts, removed to Haywood in the late "seventies." Her granddaughters, Mrs. Edward C. McDowell of Berwick and Mrs. George T. Barbour of this city, have many pleasant recollections of the old place as an early playground. The late Mr. Anderson Finch and his charming family occupied the place for several years; they were followed by Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Robertson, and perhaps there were other occupants whose names our informants have failed to recall, but no one is likely to forget the occupancy of Haywood for many years by that venerable scholar, Dr. John Hays, and his accomplished wife, and by that charming group of daughters, who are now arranging to leave forever "the places of their youth" though leaving also one lasting memento behind them in the name which the old home bears.
